

Jewellery Workshops

Creative Weekend in the Blue Mountains

Sondi's Studio

A new concept in jewellery making!

Enter the world of the alchemist, melting and joining materials to create your own unique jewellery.

Under Sondi's knowledgeable eye, you will join 4-5 people to learn about jewellery making. No previous experience is necessary. Weekend workshops are held in Wentworth Falls, in a spectacular bush setting. You will gain a range of skills, including sawing, filing, wire work, hammering, and soldering. Participants will make a silver ring on the first day and a piece of their choice on the second day.

Sondi specialises in Mokume Gane and her custom made jewellery is well loved and collected by admirers of beautiful contemporary jewellery Australia wide. Her work is carried by leading galleries, including Makers Mark Syd/Melb, the NGA Shop and Katoomba Fine Art. Sondi has taught at Enmore Design Centre & Sturt Craft Centre. Her work has also been published in the book 500 Brooches.

After the workshop, you will have time to explore the Blue Mountains, perhaps staying in one of the many B&B's in the area.
